MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR.

The following message was received from the Mayor on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Charter of this city:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, January 22, 1874.

To the Common Council:

The Charter of this city will, undoubtedly be amended by the Legislature. That body is now controlled by a large and numerous majority of members of one political faith. There is every reason to be assured that this majority will pass amendments without the necessity of an act being hampered by compromises or weakened in system by concessions such as necessarily had to be made in 1870-71, for the purpose of securing any amendments at all. The Mayor, therefore, respectfully recommends that a Select Committee from each Board be duly appointed to draft and propose to the Legislature any desired amendment to the Charter. A similar course was adopted in 1870, when the first legislative interference with the ancient charters and rights of the city occurred. Several times subsequently the Common Council memorialized the Legislature upon the subject of Charter amendments. The Mayor sends a copy of the first proceedings taken by the Common Council, and in 1870, as exhibiting the precedent. It is manifestly proper that a Common Council chosen under the circumstances of the last election, should receive from the Legislature a more honest hearing than that honorable body will accord to merely voluntary associations which, however patriotic in motive and skillful to suggest municipal measures, do not take their origin directly from the people.

Without being invidious, it may be also added that among the members of the Common Council are four who have been Presidents of one of the Boards of Aldermen in prior years, and a member who has been Chairman of Commerce in Congress, a surveyor of the Port and Attorney-General of the State; one who has been a member of the Department of Education; another attached to the Department of Charities and Correction; another was formerly Street Commissioner; another has been for three years identified with measures of Public Health; another was for many years honorably and servably connected with the Department of Police; another has been for fifteen years, not only a city editor, but an Alibi correspondent, and his memory is really encyclopedic in municipal affairs; and there are other Aldermen and Assistants who, although never having held public trusts, are distinguished as bankers, manufacturers, and lawyers; and, indeed, two of them have, as private citizens, conspicuously aided the commercial and material development of the city. It is, therefore, judiciously appropriate, from individual points of view, and because of the practical experience thus available that your body should act as recommended.

A. OAKLEY HALL, Mayor.

SUPPLEMENT TO MESSAGE.

[Extract from Minutes of Common Council.]

JANUARY 23, 1874.

The memorial to the Legislature, respecting the amendments to the Charter of the city, reported by the Council on the 11th of January instant, agreeably to a resolution of the Board, and which was laid on the table, was on motion now called up, and read in full, the following words:

This undersigned, in pursuance of a resolution adopted by the Board on the 24th day of December last, respectfully reports the annexed draft of a memorial to the Legislature on the subject of the amendments to the Charter of the city.

R. EMMETT.

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of New York, in Senate and Assembly convened:

The memorial of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the city of New York, respectfully representeth,

That certain amendments to the Charter of the city of New York were proposed and adopted in the month of September last, by a City Council of delegates from the different wards of the City, chosen and assembled for that purpose; and that, at the last general election held in the said city, the question whether the said amendments ought to become a law of the State, having been submitted to the electors of the said city, it appeared by the returns made by the returning officer of the said election, in relation to the said amendments, that the same were approved by a majority of said said electors, there being ten thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine votes in favor of, and five thousand five hundred and eighty-eight votes against the said amendments.

Your memorialists, therefore, in compliance with the wishes of the majority of the said electors thus expressed, respectfully submit herewith to your Honorable Body, the amendments so proposed to the Charter of the city of New York.

The amendments are in the following words:

(There follow amendments twenty-four in number.)

Alderman Stevens proposed to add to the memorial as follows: And your memorialists respectfully solicit of your honorable body that a law may be passed in conformity with the proposed amendments, as recommended by the Convention.

A motion was made to lay the proposed addition on the table. The question being taken, and a division called by Alderman Strong, the members voted as follows:

Affirmative—Mr. Recorder, Aldermen Nevins, Wells, Meserve, Marsh, Lee, Woodruff, Meserve, Roosevelt, Mandeville, Bryson, Scott, Rogers, Cooper, Lovett, and Engs—15.

Negative—Aldermen Mott, Stronk, B. M. Brown, Palmer, Messrs. Seymour, Arcularius, Townsend, Beadle, Jeremiah, and DuBois—10.

So it was carried in the affirmative, and the proposed addition was laid on the table.

The question was then taken on agreeing to the memorial. A division having been called, the members voted as follows:

Affirmative—Mr. Recorder, Aldermen Nevins, Mott, Stronk, B. M. Brown, Wells, Meserve, Marsh, Lee, Palmer, Woodruff, Messrs. Roosevelt, Seymour, Mandeville, Bryson, Arcularius, Townsend, Scott, Beadle, Rogers, Jeremiah, DuBois, Cooper, Lovett, and Engs—15.

So the memorial was agreed to unanimously.

(Sec. v. 29 Pro. C. C. p. 332. Jan 25 1874.)

Alderman Falconer moved that a special Committee of three be appointed on the recommendations contained in the message.

Alderman Van Schack moved to amend by adding, "and that before proceeding to Albany, the committee shall report their recommendations to the Board for approval."

Which was accepted by Alderman Falconer.

Whereupon Alderman Conover, as an amendment, moved that the committee consist of five members, of whom the President shall be one.

Alderman Vance moved that the subject be indefinitely postponed.

Which was lost.

The amendment of Alderman Conover was then accepted by Alderman Falconer.

The President then put the question whether the Board would agree with the motion of Alderman Falconer.

And it was decided in the affirmative.

The President subsequently appointed Aldermen Falconer, Van Schack, Conover, and Vance as such committee. The President being a member by a vote of the Board.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Alderman Van Schack—

Whereas, The imperfect investigations already made have convinced the public that corruption has permeated almost every department of the government of the city and county of New York; and

Whereas, The examinations heretofore made by the committees appointed for that purpose, have necessarily been imperfect on account of the refusal by the said Common Council to grant to such committees the power to examine persons and papers; and

Whereas, The present members of this Board were elected as reformers upon the express pledge that they should exert their utmost endeavor to thoroughly investigate and reform whatever abuses have hitherto existed in the affairs of the city of New York, and that such investigation and reformation, when least demanded by the Democratic voters of this city, as well as by the vast majority of its citizens, irrespective of party; it is therefore

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to investigate all the transactions of the government of the city of New York during the past years, to discover and report whatever frauds or irregularities have been committed, and what abuses now exist; and to examine and report what measures can be taken to punish those persons or officials who may be found to have been guilty of corrupt or improper conduct, with the view to prevent the occurrence of such conduct in the future; and that the committee be given full power to send for persons and papers, and employ such clerical and legal assistance as may be necessary.

Alderman Conover moved to amend by adding after the word "certain," and before the word "assistance," in the line next to the last, in the resolution, the words "and legal."

Which was accepted by Alderman Van Schack.

The resolution was then adopted.

And the President subsequently appointed Aldermen Van Schack, Mehrbach, Falconer, Martin, and Gilsey as such committee.

By Alderman Gilsey—

Resolved, That the Commissioner of Public Works be required to furnish to this Board a list of the gas lamps furnished to individuals or institutions in this city, public or private, without cost to the party to whom furnished, whether for the lamps or gas consumed in them, and further, by what authority this has been and continues to be done in each particular case, and also the amount of money paid by the city for this purpose.

Which was adopted.

By Alderman Martin—

Resolved, That permission be and is hereby given to the Free Church of St. Mary the Virgin, in West Forty-fifth street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, to exchange the ornamental lamps and lamp posts, with the following resolution:
